Preventing and redirecting sex-based discrimination and (sexual) harassment through (animated) educational content for youth

INTRODUCING ANIMATOPEDIA

Animatopedia is a two-year Erasmus+ cooperation partnership project involving 5 organisations in 5 countries: Welcome Home International (Belgium), Synthesis Center for Research and Education (Cyprus), Tia Formazione Internazionale Associazione (Italy), Atermion B.V. (Netherlands), and Federação das Associações Juvenis de Braga (Portugal).

The objective of Animatopedia is to address digital transformation to develop the capacity of young people through the innovative use of digital education content intended to enhance their knowledge on gender equality, and specifically sex-based discrimination and (sexual) harassment in the partner countries. We believe that digital transformation can contribute to gender equality and youth empowerment, hence we are seeking to create and develop high quality content for youth, youth workers and trainers, including animated educational videos, toolkits and webinars.

Updates

The Animatopedia project was launched in November 2022

The project partners met at the Kick Off meeting in Brussels in February 2023

We are on social media including TikTok, Facebook and Instagram since February 2022

In March 2023 we have launched a project website

On 18th of July we hosted a webinar about different types of harassment

Webinar

On 18th July 2024, we had the incredible opportunity to host the ANIMATOPEDIA webinar focused on gender equality and gender-based discrimination. This enriching event brought together youth workers, trainers, and young individuals eager to enhance their understanding of gender equality, intersectionality, and the ways to address and combat gender-based violence and harassment in various environments.

♦ During the webinar the project partners presented the animated videos on the following topics:

Harassment in the LGBTQIA+ Community

Disability harassment

Harassment in sports

Racial harassment

Religious harassment

Online harassment

School harassment

Workplace harassment

The webinar, held in English, was a tremendous success, providing valuable knowledge and tools to all participants. We are grateful for the active engagement and contributions from everyone involved.

We would love to hear about your opinions and experiences regarding gender equality! If you would like to take part in the Animatopedia research please contact:
